

Note from Caroline Gilmour-White re Mission Paraguay, 31 July 2008

Dear everyone

I couldn't put into words the success of our July volunteer programme so am letting those who participated tell you about it.

From Sunday, I'm off to the Chaco, 325 km from the city, to cook and translate for the August group who are helping to build a church and several water tanks to hold rainwater, when it falls. There has been no rain since October in the Indian communities. We'll be washing in swamp water.

God answered our prayers for sunshine and smooth running of the building and sewing projects in July wonderfully. Please pray now for health, safety and good fellowship in spite of the challenges in Rio Verde and Yatnata from 3rd to 19th August.

With love to all and God bless, Caroline
