

The Anglican Diocese of Paraguay

June 2010

Cross in the Cathedral decorated for Easter

Dear friends

Back to books this month

English staff at church and school wondered where their books went when we re-vamped the diocesan library. The answer is, to the smallest room in the house – and it isn't a broom cupboard. Various modifications, plastic over the window to keep out dust, a bit of plumbing, some pictures and coloured dividers have transformed the space. Publicity goes up this week. We hope for many new readers and more transformations.

Everyone is enjoying the new-look Spanish library which is now attracting local readers. They are all finding new titles to resource their ministries which is so rewarding.

For praise:

- Your prayers won through! The Maklawaya church (May's prayer letter) have raised some cash for their roof. This is an important first.
- The help needed to plan the next sewing course, again with your donated resources, has come from Sally Bartlett, our Bishop's wife, pictured in the little library.

For prayer:

- The Growing into Spiritual Maturity course has started on Wednesdays with local pastors. It's key for the future growth of the church. Please pray that all would gain all they need from it.
- The library catalogue needed to re-start the mobile library is hanging fire. It's computer based and competes for 'screen' time on Tuesdays and Thursdays with other jobs. I'd love to have it finished by the end of June. Please would you pray for energy and my eyes!
