Caroline's news October and November 2010

Do you remember the Indian church I wrote about in

May? I've had an exciting project under wraps since last year. It's the publication of a book of drawings and stories by Jack Sanderson. He lived and worked with the Indians in their area, the arid interior part of Paraguay, from 1930 -1952. The indigenous world has changed drastically since that time and funds from sales of the book will help us help their communities. Every Paraguayan who has seen Jack's work has loved it. It is an important piece of history by someone who shared it. We hope to have Spanish and Enxet versions next year, when Paraguay celebrates the bicentenary of its independence.

In the next two months I'll be working via email with a page designer and printer. I'd be so grateful for your prayers that everything turns out right with the book (no typos, missing accents, meeting deadlines, etc) and that I would be able to keep the sewing workshops and library readers happy at the same time.

The diocesan archives come alive again - adventure ahead! Peter and Pat Sanderson, son and daughter-in-law of Jack are visiting mid October – mid November. They are doing a 3 day pioneer trail on horseback (with mission partner Ed Brice) through bush (thorns, heat, mosquitoes), a replica of one of Jack's regular journeys. Please pray for their safety 3-5 November and for any God-given opportunities to raise awareness of the plight of the Indian people in Paraguay.

Praise Him! He is faithful and dependable 1 Corinthians 1. 9

With love, Caroline
