

Paraguay Prayer Calendar March & April 2012

Churches praying together World Day of Prayer 2012

St Andrews Chapel

Week Thurs 1 – Weds 7 Mar – Thanking God the Father

And whatever you do, whether in word or deed, do it all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through him. Colossians 3:17

The Cathedral congregation are encouraged that new people are taking part in the church and ask for prayer for these people.

The Annexe school are excited to see building work taking shape as a new computer room. Please pray for the older Annexe pupils on their camp on the 8th and 9th March.

Miriam Greco thanks God for the recent holiday times enabling many to regain strength and renew energies.

Chris Hawksbee notes: 'we have been blessed by good rains in the Chaco. It is refreshing to see plenty of water in the reservoirs and water cisterns, lush vegetation and the family allotments prospering. At times it has been a bit hot for the watermelons; they can get scorched on the vines. People really enjoy a good watermelon.' Please pray for those who have dengue fever, rates increase after abundant rain.

Ed and Mari Brice give thanks for Raquel who is receiving training in preparation for working with the children of St Mathew's church on Sunday mornings and for the commitment of the ministry team from Asuncion which is working alongside the church in Rio Verde.

We thank the Lord that Pastor Agustin and Teresa Maidana have purchased land in Aregua so that they can build a small house for their retirement.

FEISA early years' teacher training college thank the Lord for his provision for 2011 and for enabling us to start this new year. A good number of students have started the 3 year diploma and 10 students have enrolled on the degree course.

Caroline Gilmour W is especially grateful to God for a refreshing time in the UK. Meeting kind and generous church people and contact with others who are hoping to visit Paraguay as volunteers or for the English chapel centenary have made her 2 month stay inspiring.

Gwen Carlisle and Mags Southern give thanks for a good start to the school year. 'We had a good opening service in the Cathedral for the staff before term started and a good time learning together. Parents meetings have gone well so far and Pastor Ronnie has spoken at most of them. After one meeting a new parent told the head of area how much he appreciated the spiritual talk, something he had not heard much of lately.'

Week Thurs 8 – Weds 14 Mar – A new way to relate: love one another

'A new command I give you: Love one another. As I have loved you, so you must love one another. By this everyone will know that you are my disciples, if you love one another.' John 13:34,35

As Jesus drew near to the cross He taught his disciples about new way to live. His mission includes building communities of disciples who demonstrate His love and so the community keeps on growing.

Please pray for Linn Tedman who has been unwell and spent a week in hospital with diverticulitis. She needs to have surgery. Please pray for Linn that she would continue to know God's peace and be given wisdom in all her decisions, apart from the surgery she is also preparing to retire and return to England.

Miriam Greco from the Cathedral asks us to pray 'for all members of the Cathedral congregations that we would be able to understand God's timing in our lives and in the church. And that as we reflect over the apparent much sowing and little harvesting may we remember that The Lord of Hosts is with us.

Pray for unity across the denominations and groups which are in Paraguay, and for the World Day of Prayer committee which meets on Monday 12th to evaluate last week's service praying for Malaysia. May the members of the group continue to show Christian love to each other and encourage unity.

- giving thanks for Jazmin who continues in her commitment to the indigenous children in the Chaco

- for Ed as he seeks to develop indigenous leaders
- for wisdom in changing the organisation of Bible studies in the Chaco

Chris Hawksbee asks us to pray for development projects in the Chaco. He shares with us:

- The cattle projects are going well, there is loads of water and grass for the livestock. Three communities had cows calving down and so now there is some milk. At times, we have had problems with pumas killing goats. Please pray for the continued success of this project.
- The Indian communities have most of their land covered with bush or forest and all of the ranches around them have cleared their land for pasture. We encourage the Indians to practice silvo-pastoral grazing, which is built into the overall strategy of these livestock projects. They have just had the vets come in to do the foot and mouth vaccination.
- More communities are beginning to see their neighbours' results as they get together and organize themselves on a community basis to apply for projects from different organizations.

'Community is first of all a quality of the heart. It grows from the spiritual knowledge that we are alive not for ourselves but for one another. Community is the fruit of our capacity to make the interests of others more important than our own. The question therefore is not 'How can we make community?' but 'How can we develop and nurture giving hearts?' Jean Vanier (founder of the L'Arche Communities)

The Zeballos Cue Pepe School (nursery and kindergarten) is starting up again this year after a year's break. Gloria, the teacher had a baby a year and a bit ago, so she took a year off. The church is supposed to be the city that sits on a hill whose light cannot be hidden. The church is supposed to be the salt in the earth that brings seasoning and preservation to the whole community. The church is supposed to be the wellspring of hope and help and healing in a sinful world, but that does not seem to be the case...the church needs some power.
